

Ann Melone is a Business Development Officer and SVP at U.S. Bancorp Impact Finance, where she focuses on originating new LIHTC affordable housing partnerships for U. S. Bank in fourteen states across the Pacific Northwest, Rocky Mountains, Upper Plains, Southwest and Texas. Ann has been with U.S. Bank since 2005, and has served on many Seattle area boards and committees focusing on affordable housing during that time, including serving as chair of the City of Seattle Housing Levy Oversight Committee. Ann has an undergraduate degree in History and French from Washington University in St. Louis, and an MBA from the University of Washington. Passions include literary fiction (reading, not writing), and DIY house projects.