

Terese is both the Principal Broker and Vice President of Gaddis Investments. With more than 28 years' experience in the commercial real estate field, Terese is active in overseeing new investment and development opportunities in Utah, Colorado and Idaho. Her most recent development was a GSA building in Salt Lake where she gained a unique skillset in government building development and ownership. Terese is now seeking to expand the company's GSA portfolio. In addition to growing the company assets, Terese oversees the management division of their diverse property portfolio. As Retail Services Manager for the 2002 Winter Olympic Village, Terese collaborated on the international retail vision while identifying potential retailers and negotiating leases for a full-service outdoor "mall" inside the Olympic Village. Post Olympics, she owned and operated her own commercial property management company in Salt Lake City for 3 years, gaining invaluable experience in warehouse, office and shopping center leasing. Terese finds happiness with travel, cooking, biking, skiing and..... sometimes golf.
