

Tina Renee is a seasoned commercial real estate executive with over two decades of experience leading high-performing teams and driving value across diverse asset classes. As Senior Managing Director and Atlanta City Lead for Asset Services at Cushman & Wakefield, Tina Renee oversees a portfolio of more than 23 million square feet of office, retail, industrial, and medical office properties. She leads a team of approximately 100 professionals, guiding strategy, operations, and client service across the region.

Throughout her career, Tina Renee has built a reputation as a dynamic leader and strategic thinker. Her expertise spans asset and property management, leasing, capital markets, and portfolio optimization. She has successfully developed and executed management and marketing strategies for commercial assets nationwide and has cultivated long-standing relationships with Fortune 500 tenants and institutional investors.

Before joining Cushman & Wakefield, Tina Renee served as Head of Asset Management of the Office Vertical at Bridge Investment Group, where she oversaw 13 million square feet of Class A office space across the U.S. Her leadership resulted in over 4 million square feet of successful dispositions and more than 700 lease transactions. Prior to that, she held senior roles at Gemini Rosemont, Columbia Property Trust, and Wells Real Estate Funds, consistently delivering strong financial performance and enhancing asset value.

Tina Renee's contributions to the industry have earned her widespread recognition. She has been named one of Atlanta's 500 Most Influential by Focus Atlanta Magazine, honored as a Bisnow Power Woman, and recognized by GlobeSt. as a Woman of Influence in Corporate Real Estate. She is also a recipient of the CRE Women in Real Estate Award and the CREW Network Member-to-Member Networking Award.

Beyond her professional achievements, Tina Renee is deeply committed to advancing the industry and mentoring future leaders. She has served as President of the Atlanta Chapter of CREW Network and held leadership roles with the Atlanta Commercial Board of Realtors, ULI, The Women's Collective, and several other organizations. She holds an MBA with a concentration in Finance from Georgia State University and a BS in Environmental Economics and Management from the University of Georgia.

Tina brings a powerful blend of operational excellence, strategic insight, and people-first leadership to every role she takes on—and she's passionate about shaping the future of commercial real estate through innovation, collaboration, and purpose-driven growth.
