Why Sponsor?

As a CREW Silicon Valley Chapter Sponsor, you are helping advance women in commercial real estate by supporting professional growth, leadership development, and industry equity. Your sponsorship not only amplifies your commitment to diversity and inclusion but also connects your brand to a vibrant community that's shaping the future of CRE.

Becoming a Chapter Sponsor gives your company year-round brand visibility and access to a powerful network of decision-makers in commercial real estate. Sponsorship opens doors to new business opportunities, strengthens client relationships, and aligns your brand with industry leaders who value innovation and collaboration.

CHAPTER SPONSOR TESTIMONIALS

“As CREW is made of members who touch commercial real estate in a variety of ways, the breadth and depth of resources brought to one’s fingertips cannot be surpassed.”

Washington Holdings has been a platinum sponsor for nearly 10 years. We view CREW as a place to go for support, advice, and a general feeling of belonging in the local commercial real estate industry. A member in the initial stage of their career can benefit from expedited growth both professionally and personally through the relationships being built within the organization. Those well established in their career have an opportunity to continue growing their business and bring others up through the mentorship program.

As CREW is made of members who touch commercial real estate in a variety of ways, the breadth and depth of resources brought to one’s fingertips cannot be surpassed. CREW membership is made of real estate brokers, investors, bankers, lenders, managers, professional service groups, attorneys, general contractors, etc. In 1989, the Silicon Valley chapter of Commercial Real Estate Women was established for women to nurture growth and camaraderie in the industry. In 2025 the camaraderie continues and has grown into a membership of 12.39% men. All who seek a supportive organization where they can grow their real estate knowledge base, network, and be current on commercial real estate matters should consider CREW.”

Rosanna Davidson | Senior VP | Washington Holdings | Platinum Sponsor

“We sponsor CREW because our values align closely with its mission to elevate women in CRE...”

... and we’ve watched them live out that mission with the elevation of our own female members by the organization. We see value in the investment, and CREW has made a significant investment back by developing our members, providing leadership opportunities for them, and creating networking opportunities with the best-in-class of the industry.”
